A PERPLEXING QUESTION.

The threatened meursion of the Industrial Army is causing some uneasiness at Washington. There is a wide difference of opinion as to what constitutes the right to assemble at the Capitol and petition Congress for renress of grevances. Able lawyers, one of whom is Senator Alien of Nebrasks are of the opinion that the people have the unquestioned right to peaceably assemble in Washington, discuss their grievances and petition for redress. Senator Hawley of Connecticut, a firey military man, says Allen's opinion should not be allowed to go forth to the country as representing in any degree the views of the Senate. He criticises Allen for his reference to the Industrial Army as the people. He asserted that the men who were on their way to Washington did not represent the thought a committee on communications should be appointed to receive the army, but a resolution to appoint such a committee was voted down.

In the House of Representatives Boen of Minnesota introduced a reselution to instruct the Secretary of War to provide a camping ground for all organized bodies of laboring people who may come within the District of Columbia and to see that their rights as citizens are respected, during their stay. He thinks it is the duty of the Government to maintain the peace, and believes that peace and good will can be secured the First Ward. by concessions and recognition by the government, as well as by individuals, of the rights of citizens, and by extending all possible aid to them in their endeavors to secure such redress as they may consider themselves entitled to.

Representative Davis, of Kansas has supplemented Boon's resolution with a recital of the hardships of the unemployed and a bill directing the Secretary of War to enlist 500,000 men in an industrial volunteer army to serve for one year, the army to be fed, clothed and paid as regular soldiers, and be employed on public works, such as canals, rivers and harbors, public highways, etc. To defray the expenses of this army the Secretary of the Treasury is directed to issue $50,000,000 of legal tender notes redeemable at the pleasure of the Government.

No definite plan has yet been agreed upon for the immediate wants of the army. Public sentiment is against using the military to dispense the army by force when it arrives at Washington, and so long as the men do not violate the law they cannot be arrested and imprisoned. A determined effort will be made to prevent them from arriving in Washington in any considerable numbers, and railroads centering in that city will not permit them to ride on their trains unless they pay full fare. - Journal,

CENTRAL COMMITTEE.

The Chairman and Secretary have issued a call for a meeting of the State Central Committee of the Silver Party to be held in Reno on Wednesday the 23rd day of May ensuing. It is desired that as full an attendance of the Committee as possible be had. An apportionment of delegates will be made and a State Convention called for the nomination of a full State ticket of true and tried Nevadans, and such other business will be transacted as may be deemed advisable by the Committee. -S lver

The San Francisco Chronicle says: Kelley, the leader of the Industrial Army now at Omaha, has developed into a skillful manager. If he adheres to his determinination not to violate the law, and if he insists upon good order among his men, he is likely to carry his forces across the country without much trouble. The popular sympathy with these unemployed men is very great and it is this feature which makes this movement on Washington so formidable, It is very well for statesmen to theorize on the unemployed problem, but the concrete fact of the presance of several thousand idle and hungry men will soon be presented to them and they will have to deal with it.

Failing Eyesight.

A well-known resident of this city who refuses to allow his name to be published, claims to have discovered a remedy for failing sight. He says that he had been wearing the same pair of glasses for several years and a few months ago was presented with a new pair by an acquaintance. He then discovered that the glasses be has been wearing were too old and the idea struck him that he would try a still younger pair.

He continued experimenting for several months, getting less powerful glasses every few weeks, and found that his sight was gradually growing stronger, and now he has discarded glasses altogether and can read by either natural or artificial light as well as he could before he began us-

He considers that his discovery is of sudicient importance to warrant his experimenting on an extensive scale with persons whose sight is growing dim, and says that in all cases, so far, he has succeeded m improving the vision of converts to his theory. - Enterprise.
